

APRIL

ARTICLES

IOM recommends halt to Reye Syndrome — aspirin study

An Institute of Medicine Committee has recommended that the Public Health Service discontinue a study on Reye Syndrome because preliminary results strongly support a link between aspirin and Reye Syndrome. 1

Pediatricians call attention to nuclear threat through protests, arrests

Many pediatricians are concerned about the nuclear arms race and the danger it poses to the future of world survival. Several pediatricians have gone a step further: They've broken the law in order to call public attention to the threat of nuclear disaster. 1

New definition, classification of AIDS expected 1

Prospects look good for AZT use in children with AIDS

The word is hopeful on the use of AZT in treating children with AIDS. 2

Meeting to help communities respond to AIDS crisis

Identifying strategies to help communities cope with the AIDS crisis is the aim of an American Medical Association meeting scheduled for April 21-22 in Chicago. 2

Members encouraged to offer AIDS statement to schools

As the number of children with AIDS grows, so, too, does the likelihood that schools will be confronted with the question of whether to let a child with AIDS attend school. 2

Group seeks to increase awareness of emotional abuse

The National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse encourages pediatricians to take part in a nationwide campaign this month to increase public awareness of the problem of emotional abuse. 3

Computerized option offered to members enrolled in PREP

Pediatricians enrolled in the Pediatrics Review and Education Program (PREP) might want to take advantage of CompuPREP, a computerized version of the PREP Self-Assessment. 3

Referral service doubles in number of participants. . . . 4

Periodic surveys to assess membership's views on issues 5

Risky Business: Physician's responsibility extends to staff in malpractice cases 5

Changing Times: Trends in health care finance

This is the first installment of a periodic series designed to inform pediatricians about recent trends and developments in health care finance. 6

Emergency medicine certification offered 8

National effort targets problem of preteen alcoholism

AAP media spokespersons are participating in a nationwide campaign this month to discourage alcohol use among preteens. 9

Yellow Pages to have booth at Spring Session 9

Founding member of Academy, former district chairman dies 13

Nominees sought for committee vacancies 13

Seattle campaign provides model for encouraging bike helmet use 15

Revisions in spring program, faculty reviewed. 16

Half-matched donors brighten prospects for immunodeficient children

The successful use of "half-matched" donors for bone marrow transplants is improving the prospects for children with severe combined immunodeficiencies, according to Rebecca H. Buckley, M.D. Dr. Buckley will discuss bone marrow transplantation at the AAP Continuing Medical Education course "Advances in Pediatrics IV." 17

Course setting has historic flavor 17

ABP appoints pediatricians to 'test' committee 18

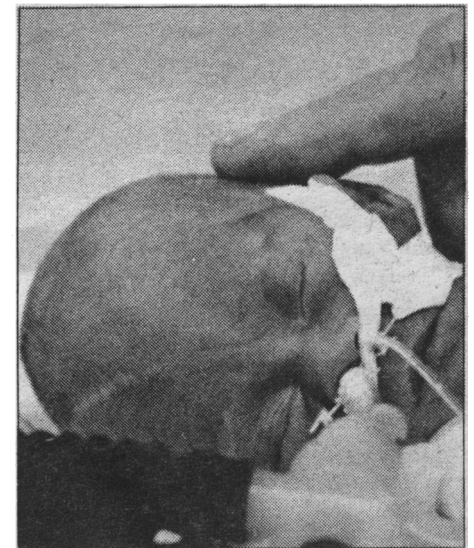

Physician to discuss improving diagnosis of abdominal conditions

Recent advances in diagnostic techniques can help increase the diagnostic accuracy of appendicitis from 80 percent to more than 95 percent, according to David L. Collins, M.D., FAAP. Dr. Collins will speak at the AAP Continuing Medical Education course "Advances in Pediatrics V," scheduled for June 19-21 in Toronto. 19

'Civilized' city is setting for CME course 19

Car seat campaign. Page 2.

Baby Doe network. Page 4.

COLUMNS

Washington Update

Parental leave: AAP support issued...Child passenger safety: Further work needed...Child abuse: Positive, negative trends...Vaccine compensation: Suggestions for funding... pediatric AIDS: Grant funds workshop 2

Chapter Newslines

Montana: Baby Doe network...Oregon: Smoke-free baby... Mississippi: ATV warning...Delaware: Health incentive... Argentina: Pediatric emergencies 4

Focus on Practice

Fair price, fair treatment play role in selling practice and selling out 5

Health Alert

Rheumatic fever resurgence...Surfactant for respiratory distress syndrome...Product alerts...Native American teens' tobacco habits...Safety seat guide...Cutting life short...False perceptions 6

tobacco habits...Safety seat guide...Cutting life short...False perceptions 6

Second Opinions

Contraceptive advertising: Step in right direction?... Cars and children: One parent's advice 21

Point of View

Physicians have duty to help end 'sinister' abuse of children's rights 22

DEPARTMENTS

AAP guidelines: School-based health clinics 7

Membership applicant list 10

Fellows in the news 12

Course calendar 18

Classified Ads 23

AAP News
PUBLISHED MONTHLY

AAP President
William C. Montgomery, M.D.

Executive Director
James E. Strain, M.D.

Director, Department of Communications/Membership Services
Susan A. Casey

Director
Division of Communications
Jeff Molter

Editor
Michael Burke

Staff Writers
Tina Panoplos
Karen Andros

Editorial Assistants
Barbara Key
Leslie M. Kubernus

Copyright © 1987 by the American Academy of Pediatrics, an organization of 31,000 pediatricians dedicated to the health, safety and well-being of infants, children, adolescents and young adults in North, Central and South America. Views expressed in AAP News are not necessarily endorsed by the Academy.

AAP News

PUBLISHED MONTHLY

American Academy of Pediatrics
P.O. Box 927
Elk Grove Village, IL 60009-0927

Vol. 3 No. 4

April 1987

Non-Profit Org.
U.S. Postage
PAID
Chicago, IL
Permit 720