

JUNE

ARTICLES

Members elect Eaton as '90-91 AAP president

AAP members have elected Antoinette Parisi Eaton, M.D., of Columbus, Ohio, to serve as 1990-91 AAP president. 1

Schiff reviews access plan at legislative conference

Speaking to pediatricians at the Second Annual AAP Legislative Conference, President Donald Schiff, M.D., outlined Academy efforts to eliminate financial barriers to health care for children and pregnant women. 1

Three states find varied success with CHIRP bills

The AAP Minnesota, Connecticut and Arkansas chapters have had varying degrees of success this year in gaining passage of legislation based on the AAP model CHIRP bill, which calls on states to mandate insurance coverage for child health supervision visits and prenatal care. 2

Mainstream preschools offer benefits to all children

The value of early mainstreaming for disabled and non-disabled children is discussed. 3

The 'language' of disabilities

Disability experts stress the use of appropriate terminology to describe disabilities and rehabilitation. 3

Court orders health warnings on raw milk products

A California county court ruling, issued recently in a false advertising suit, affirms what the Academy and John Bolton, M.D., FAAP, have been saying for a long time — that raw milk is not always safe milk. 3

Bonuses seek to keep MDs in uniformed services

Pediatricians in the armed forces and the public health service became eligible in March to benefit from a new military bonus plan aimed at retaining physicians in the uniformed services 4

New issue of Healthy Kids is available

The Spring/Summer issue of Healthy Kids magazine was published in May and is now circulating around the country. 4

Database: Proper high technology helps children with disabilities

Many pediatricians are weighing the benefits of computers. With this increased interest have come many questions. This is another article in a periodic series designed to answer those questions and to inform pediatricians about the new frontiers offered by the new technologies. 7

Casual T. Cat

"The Shocking Adventure of Casual T. Cat," a public service announcement (PSA) urging families to child-proof their homes, was released by the Academy last month. 7

Former senator encourages pediatricians to speak out

Telling pediatricians that their "activism is desperately needed," former U.S. Senator Lowell Weicker (R-Conn.) recently urged AAP members to work with federal lawmakers to improve child health. 8

Pressures on families eventually affect nation's stability

Poverty and changes in employment patterns and family structures are placing great pressures on U.S. families that ultimately affect the entire nation, a state official told pediatricians at the recent AAP legislative conference. 8

Political science

Sen. Bill Bradley (D-N.J.) and Rep. Patricia Schroeder (D-

Colo.) delivered a similar message to the AAP legislative conference: Pediatricians must be staunch advocates for improved child health. 8

The voices of children

At the end of the Second Annual AAP Legislative Conference, nearly 100 pediatricians headed to Capitol Hill to speak up for children. Two pediatricians from Nevada went one step further: They had children speak up for themselves. 9

Joint projects improve health, receive awards

Two AAP endorsed programs designed to improve public and professional knowledge of child and adolescent health recently received awards 11

Group seeks donated books

The Sudan-American Foundation for Education, Inc. is seeking donated books and journals to replace those lost in a flood that destroyed the library of the Medical College at the University of Khartoum in August. 11

Need for more effective gun control strikes home

Not long after her husband was shot and nearly killed in an assassination attempt, Sarah Brady's young son found and began playing with a friend's loaded gun. 16

Gun control debate scheduled

Sarah Brady will join Chicago pediatrician Katherine Christoffel, M.D., FAAP, in an Annual Meeting gun control "debate" against local high school students. 16

CME course offers subspecialty workshops

Participants in the AAP Continuing Medical Education course "Clinical Advances in Pediatrics" will participate in lectures and workshops in six subspecialties. 17

Toronto course and exhibition on Labor Day

Participants in the AAP Continuing Medical Education course "Clinical Advances in Pediatrics" will have the opportunity to spend labor Day weekend in Toronto. 17

COLUMNS

Washington Update

Vaccine brochure: AAP proposes changes ... Clean air: Testimony criticized ... Pediatric AIDS: Congress previews film 2

Chapter Newslines

Nevada: Talking to medical students ... Administrators' conference ... New chapter officers 4

Focus on Practice

Pediatricians learn ways to communicate with deaf patients 5

Health Alert

Car seats ... Dangerous toys ... Benefits survey ... Playing games ... "Love your liver" ... Safety videos ... Fireworks safety 6

Fellows in the News 15

DEPARTMENTS

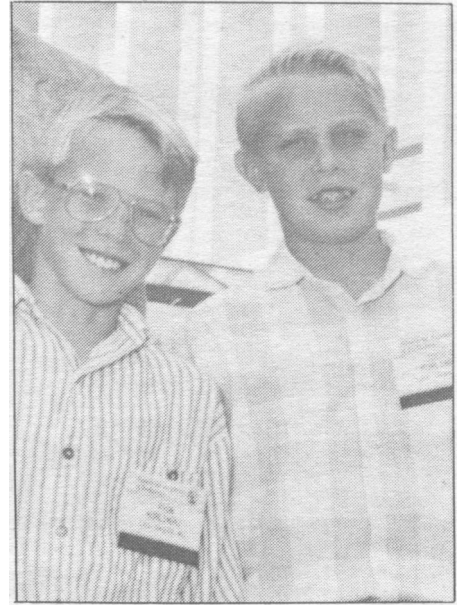

Course Calendar 17

Membership Applicant List 18

Classified Ads 19

TDD. Page 5.

Speaking up. Page 9.

AAP News
PUBLISHED MONTHLY

AAP President
Donald Schiff, M.D.

Executive Director
James Strain, M.D.

Director
Department of Communications
Linda Martin

Editor
Michael Burke

Staff Writers
Elizabeth A. Oplatka
Deirdre Rigsby

Washington Correspondents
Lisa Tate
Patricia Shea

Editorial Assistants
Pam Malik
Ellen Schmiege
Karen Wanatowicz

Publications Intern
Alex Pope

Copyright © 1989 by the American Academy of Pediatrics, an organization of 37,000 pediatricians dedicated to the health, safety and well-being of infants, children, adolescents and young adults. Views expressed in AAP News are not necessarily endorsed by the Academy. Contact the Academy at 141 Northwest Point Blvd., Elk Grove Village, IL 60009-0927; (800) 433-9016. In Illinois, (800) 421-0589.

AAP News

PUBLISHED MONTHLY

American Academy
of Pediatrics
P.O. Box 927
Elk Grove Village, IL 60009-0927

Vol. 5 No. 6 June 1989

Non-Profit Org.
U.S. Postage
PAID
Chicago, IL
Permit 720